

Renee Yardley ALM '16

Renee Yardley is VP of Sales and Marketing for Rolland Enterprises a sustainable paper company located in Montreal, Quebec. Prior to joining Rolland, she held a succession of sales and marketing positions with global organizations including General Motors, Tembec and Reebok. As Director of Regional Engagement, Renee will use her global marketing expertise to help engage Harvard Extension alumni worldwide. Renee believes in giving back to both her school and community.

In addition to her Masters of Liberal Arts from the Harvard Extension School, Renee also holds an MBA from McGill University and has held volunteer positions with both the McGill Executive Institute Alumni Committee and the McGill Alma Mater Fund, experiences that will serve her well in strengthening the Harvard Extension Alumni. In her community, Renee served as president of the board of directors of Literacy Partners of Quebec for 6 years and currently serves on a local hospital foundation board of directors aiming to improve healthcare in the local community.

As a regional alumna, Renee looks forward to working with the Regional Engagement Committee and connecting with alumni to ensure the strength of the Harvard Extension School alumni network for years to come.
